MARKET VALUATION AT ₹7 LAKH CRAS OF FEB

Institutional appetite for InvTs gains traction

KSHIPRA PETKAR
Mumbai, April 9

INSTITUTIONAL EXPOSURE TO infrastructure investment trusts (InvTs) is steadily rising, signalling what industry leaders describe as a “structural shift” in capital allocation towards infrastructure-backed yield platforms.

According to Icr, the market valuation of Indian InvTs has expanded manifold—from approximately ₹40,000 crore in March 2020 to over ₹7 lakh crore as of February.

With institutions such as India Infrastructure Finance Company planning to double their InvT investments to ₹6,000 crore by FY27, market participants say the trend reflects a broader transition, rather than isolated institutional moves.

NS Venkatesh, chief executive officer of the Bharat InvTs Association, said the growing commitment to InvTs is underpinned by the asset class's track record of stable, annuity-like cash flows and strengthened governance standards. “The shift is driven by a national emphasis on infrastructure creation and a growing institutional need for reliable, long-term yields.”

However, he added that while the trajectory towards mainstream acceptance is clear, it's not yet universal. “The momentum is largely propelled by state-backed initiatives and the National Monetisation Pipeline, while some private players remain selective.”

Over the past decade, regulatory refinements by Sebi have enhanced transparency and operational efficiency in the InvT space, boosting investor confidence. Institutional investors, including pension funds, insurance companies, banks, mutual funds and large corporates, currently account for around 8% of total InvT unit holdings, according to Icr. While this remains modest compared with global standards, analysts expect the share to rise steadily in coming years.

Several structural factors are driving participation. InvTs are mandated to distribute at least 90% of their net distributable cash flows, making them attractive to institutions with long-term liabilities. Leverage is capped at 49%, extendable to 70% subject to conditions such as a AAA rating and a track record of six distributions—safeguards that support healthy coverage metrics.

From a credit perspective, roads and highways have gained strong traction due to established toll and annuity models. Their share in total InvT asset value has risen sharply—from 16% in March 2021 to 39% in March 2025—and was expected to exceed 40% by March 2026.

Suprio Banerjee, vice-president and co-group head at Icr, said: “The increasing share of roads is likely to continue in FY27 with the expected listing of Citiust TransNet Investment Trust. Nevertheless, the telecom sector continues to lead the InvT landscape in terms of asset value, with two major telecom InvTs accounting for nearly half of the total.”

Even smaller banks, which currently have limited or no exposure to InvTs, remain open to participation if suitable opportunities arise.

RBI issues norms to ease cross-border payments

FE BUREAU
Mumbai, April 9

THE RESERVE BANK of India (RBI) has issued fresh directives to enhance the efficiency of inward cross-border payments, aligning with its Payments Vision 2025 and the G20 road map for faster, cheaper and more transparent transactions.

The central bank has flagged delays in crediting funds at the beneficiary stage of cross-border transactions, particularly the lag between receipt of funds and their credit to customer accounts.

To address this, RBI has mandated a series of measures aimed at improving efficiency and transparency.

Banks must immediately notify customers once inward payment messages are received, even outside business hours. They are required to reconcile nostro accounts in near real time, ideally within an hour, rather than relying solely on end-of-day statements.

Payments received during forex market hours must be credited the same day, while those received after hours should be processed on the next business day.

To further streamline operations, banks may adopt straight-through processing systems, subject to FEMA compliance, enabling direct credit of inward remittances to resident accounts.

Additionally, banks are encouraged to provide digital platforms that allow customers to upload necessary documents and track foreign exchange transactions seamlessly.

These directions will take effect six months from today and are backed by provisions under the Payment and Settlement Systems Act, 2007. The move is expected to significantly reduce delays, improve transparency and strengthen India's position in the evolving global payments ecosystem.

RBI mulls checks to curb digital fraud

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
Mumbai, April 9

TO MITIGATE FINANCIAL fraud, RBI on Thursday proposed lagged credit for authorised push payments and a control or kill switch for digital payments.

It further proposed limiting aggregate credits in an account to help counter the problem created by mule accounts, and the designation of a trusted person to authenticate a high-value transaction for citizens aged 70 years and above and persons with disabilities.

The central bank proposed these norms in a discussion paper released on Thursday amid a rise in fraudulent activities targeting customers. It announced the discussion paper as part of its statement on developmental and regulatory policies during the February

Proposals include lagged credit for authorised push payments and a control or kill switch for digital payments monetary policy meeting.

The central bank has asked for feedback and comments on the discussion paper by May 8.

National Cyber Crime Reporting Portal indicate that fraud-related to digital payments is on the rise, with 2.8 million frauds reported in 2025, amounting to ₹22,931 crore, higher than 2.4 million, totalling ₹22,848 crore in 2024, according to the discussion paper.

In the lagged credit for authorised push payments, the central bank proposed a short delay at the payer's end for transactions above ₹10,000.

PMMY at 11: Powering MSME-led growth

ASHOK CHANDRA

WHEN PRIME MINISTER Narendra Modi launched the Pradhan Mantri MUDRA Yojana on April 8, 2015, the stated mission was simple: “Funding the Unfunded.” Eleven years later, the scheme has evolved into one of the world's largest micro-credit programmes, fundamentally altering how India's smallest entrepreneurs access formal finance. Establishing itself as a critical pillar in the nation's financial inclusion architecture.

As of March 2026, PMMY has disbursed loans worth ₹40.07 lakh crore through more than 577.9 million accounts. The scale of disbursement—exceeding the GDP of many mid-sized economies—reflects both the latent demand among micro-entrepreneurs and the institutional capacity built to service it. ₹40.07 lakh crore disbursed, two-thirds of it reaching women entrepreneurs, and over 120 million first-generation business owners brought into the formal financial fold.

The scheme emerged from a recognition that India's micro, small, and medium enterprises (MSME) sector, which contributes approximately 30% of GDP and 45% of exports, remained chronically underserved by formal credit channels. Prior to PMMY, an estimated 57.7 million micro-units operated outside the formal banking system, relying on informal moneylenders charging usurious rates or foregoing expansion altogether due to capital constraints.

PMMY operates through a three-tier institutional framework comprising the Micro Units Development and Refinance Agency (MUDRA), Member Lending Institutions (MLIs) including public sector banks, private banks, regional rural banks, microfinance institutions, and non-banking financial companies, and the beneficiaries themselves. This architecture enables credit flow from formal financial institutions to the last mile without requiring borrowers to pledge collateral—a structural barrier that had historically excluded millions from institutional finance. The scheme has helped strengthen local businesses, supply chains, and rural economies. This structure has enabled scale, reflected in the steady rise in sanctions from ₹1.37 lakh crore in FY16 to ₹5.74 lakh crore in FY26.

The scheme's graduated loan categories have proven instrumental in enabling enterprise growth. The original three tiers—Shishu (up to ₹50,000), Kishor (₹50,000 to ₹5 lakh), and Tarun (₹5 lakh to ₹10 lakh)—were designed to match credit availability with business maturity.

Perhaps more significant than aggregate disbursement figures is the scheme's reach into previously excluded demographics. Over 120 million accounts belong to first-time borrowers, underscoring PMMY's role in creating new entrepreneurs rather than merely refinancing existing businesses.

Women have emerged as the predominant beneficiaries, holding two third share in the number of loan accounts sanctioned. Further, more than half of MUDRA loan account holders belong to Scheduled Castes, Scheduled Tribes and Other Backward Classes—a distribution that speaks to the scheme's effectiveness in reaching economically weaker sections.

Public sector banks have served as the primary delivery mechanism, leveraging their extensive branch networks to reach semi-urban and rural borrowers. The operational efficiency of the lending ecosystem is evident in the narrow gap between sanctioned and disbursed amounts—₹5.74 lakh crore sanctioned versus ₹5.65 lakh crore disbursed in FY2025-26 alone.

The role of digital cannot be undermined here as the integration has further strengthened the delivery architecture. Platforms such as the Jan Samarth portal have streamlined application and disbursement processes, while credit guarantee mechanisms administered by National Credit Guarantee Trustee Company have mitigated lender risk. These developments are consistent with broader trends in India's financial system towards digitisation and risk-sharing frameworks.

There are more than 79.4 million registered MSME units on the Udyam portal, out of which more than 78.8 million are micro units. As per estimates, the MSME sector still has a substantial ₹30 lakh crore addressable credit gap. Bridging this gap is key to unlocking India's full entrepreneurial potential.

Looking ahead to Vksit Bharat 2047, PMMY's role will be pivotal in realising a $30-trillion-plus economy anchored in formal, resilient MSMEs. With formalisation accelerating via Udyam and digital public infrastructure, the scheme can evolve from micro-credit provider to a full-spectrum enabler.

Reducing the residual credit gap through account aggregator frameworks and ONDC integration will be critical.

After 11 years, PMMY has evolved into a cornerstone of India's inclusive growth strategy. By enabling millions of small entrepreneurs—especially women and marginalised groups. It has powered MSME-led development, strengthened grassroots economies and advanced the vision of Atmanirbhar Bharat.

Eli Lilly loses weight loss drug market share; Novo holds on SAPALE ADDED Novo has maintained its ground well in the initial round of fight due to innovator-driven efficacy, partnerships with Emcure and Abbott, and by bringing the pricing at par with some key generics.

Mounjaro's cost in India starts at ₹13,125 per month for a 2.5 mg dose, and goes up to ₹25,781 for 15 mg dose. Post March 21, when the market was flooded with generics, Danish drugmaker Novo slashed the prices of both its obesity drug Wegovy and anti-diabetic medication Ozempic to match the prices of Indian drugmakers.

Beginning April 1, the starting dose of Wegovy (0.25 mg) were made available at a monthly price of ₹5,660, down 36% from its previous monthly price of ₹8,800. In comparison, the starting dose of semaglutide (in pre-filled pens) for companies like Eris Lifesciences and Sun Pharma stood at ₹4,000 and ₹3,490 per month, respectively.

Semaglutide's patent expired in early 2026 in countries such as India, China, Canada, and Brazil. India particularly has become a test case globally with 12 companies already introducing 23 brands in the market. To be sure, patent protection for semaglutide remains in place in many regions such as the US and Europe until the early 2030s. On the other hand, the molecule patent for Mounjaro will expire only in 2036 in India.

It's expected that more aggressive generic launches of semaglutide might be seen over the next few days, and the exponential growth trend in the segment is likely to continue in April as well. “The phenomenon will likely stabilise in 3-4 months,” a pharma analyst said.

As of March, the size of India's GLP-1 drugs market stood at around ₹1,600 crore in India. GLP-1 is a class of drug prescribed to manage type-2 diabetes and obesity. They work by regulating appetite and blood sugar.
